The historical claims of the New Testament--that Jesus performed miracles, fulfilled prophecy, died and rose again, and ascended into heaven--come to us as received tradition, and we receive them in faith, trusting that the New Testament is indeed an inspired collection of writings, that it indeed tells us the truth. Paper citing Katharine Bushnell's work God's Word to Women as an unnamed source for some of Helen Barrett Montgomery's translation known as The Centenary Translation of the New Testament. Black's New Testament Commentary presents a reliable and enlightening exposition of the New Testament for modern readers. Written by highly respected biblical scholars initially under the editorial direction of Dr. Henry Chadwick, and now of Morna D. Hooker, each commentary offers a paragraph-by-paragraph exposition based on the author's own fresh translation of the biblical text. This page contains information on resources for learning Greek.
